A PINE MEETING.

Supreme Secretary of Fraternal Union ! Greated in Becoming Manner. The open meeting of the total lodge of night, at which time an official visit was made by Supreme Secretary John M. Handley, of Denver, was a complete success in every particular. The lodge off cers prepared and presented a nice mustcal program, in which Miss Neilis Tay-lor, on the piano; Mrs. Knightlinger, in a soprano solo: the Misses Harris, in a vio-lin duet, and the Apolio Quartet, Messrs Nettleton, Ailen, Bullaro and Newton, charmed the autience with their selec-tions. Prof. Di Mauro, on his euchanted instrument, accompanied by Miss Paliadino, gave one of his inimitable numbers, which was, of course, first class. Knights of Pythias hall was filled with members and their guests, and when Fraternal Master W. H. Long introduced Col. Handley, they were eager to hear all the good and pleasing things he had ready for them, and they enjoyed it. He told all about the union and did it so it took her to cover that distance she well that everybody present who were was not stopped at sea ten hours all not already members scrambled for a petition, with the result that nearly fifty were in the hands of the secretary when the meeting broke up. Frank Strong had a few words to say and his efforts were extremely successful in convincing those present that they were not up to date unless members of After all was over a fine hanquet was served that received full justice. A few days ago Errooili had the Tomet boys arrested for receiving and opening his (Hereoli) let-ters, and swore to do the brothers bodily and thought it advisable to put Errcell under peace bonds.

DEFECTIVE HUMAN SENSES.

Impaired Eyesight and Dullaces of Hearing Common Among School Children.

Since 1629, when Massachusetts established in Boston the first American school for the blind, similar institutions have been founded by 35 other states. with a present aggregate of 3,830 pupils. There are only 54 state schools for the deaf, with more than 10,000 pupils. But not until recently has public attention been called to the immense damage inflicted on human interests by the vastly greater number of persons whose eyesight or hearing is merely defective, says the Youth's Companion. A new law of Connectiont requires that the eyes of all children attending the public schools shall be examined; and many teachers have noted that de fective vision is quite common, and that it is a serious hindrance to the pupil's progress. It has also been reported that dullnew of hearing is associated with many cases of backward scholarship. In Europe an examination abowed that "out of $2 firemen and engine-drivers, only three possessed perfectly normal hearing." A mer'ical journal auggests that where employes must be guided by sound signals, duliness of ter as color-blindness must be in read Ing color signals.

The increasing use of spectacles among both children and adults, has been made a cause of alarm; but who could infer an increase of the rainfall from the multiplication of umbrellas? of Altoquerque et al., appaliant, vs. Ar. Is its suggestive reply.

DEWEY IN AN EMERGENCY.

He Has Always Been Resourceful at Prompt in Action-As Instance.

One striking characteristic of the ad miral is readiness with which he n.eets every emergency. He is resourceful as well as prompt in action. An illustra tion of this occurred during a cruise which Dewey took after the civil war, in the Mediterranean on the old ship Canandaigua, says Leslie's Weekly. The war fever had died out and the men frequently deserted. On mer-of-war, boats cannot be lowered without an order except in a case of a man overboard Several maleonteats in the crew on night, therefore, raised the "man-over board" ery, lowered a boat, and scuttle off into the darkness. Dewey was execu tive officer of the ship, and was called from his berth. Though even then par icular as to dress, he didn't care about iniforms when there was quick work o be done, and he appeared clad only
